

Enterprise software

SALES, LOGISTICS, PRODUCTION

Hi, we're MOX!

We are a 100% Italian software company with an international outlook. We manage our solutions end to end, from concept and development to sales, serving both SMEs and large enterprises in Italy and abroad.

In Latin, MOX means “fast”, and this principle is at the heart of the way we design our software. Speed, customization and high performance are the three pillars of our offering.

Our story

MOX Solutions® was founded in 2006 by its three founding partners, Cristian Bressan, Daniel Pagnan and Luigi Ferraro, with the aim of creating a single business combining software development and integration, consulting and customization for companies seeking to automate and integrate their business processes.

Since then, we have been providing solutions designed to integrate with existing ERP systems, covering a wide range of processes: from warehouse logistics and extended supply chain management, to production, with web and mobile applications for factory data collection, to sales, with web and tablet-based solutions for sales reps, CRM, commercial and product configurators CPQ, and B2B and B2C eCommerce platforms.

Our team

The MOX team brings together highly experienced consultants and young developers: age is not what matters, but rather a critical mindset and a constant focus on innovation — essential qualities for anyone working in the digital world.

Our key strength?

Nothing is off-the-shelf or set in stone, because every business is unique: the product adapts to the customer's specific needs and workflows, not the other way around.
